Books pave new road for Melbourne

Many public servants, at some point in their lives, have sat at their desk and dreamt of opening a bookshop and Dennis Melbourne was no exception: now he is living his dream with a bookshop in Koroit…