Win a Glenafton goat milk skincare pack

CLOSED: winners, Nan Adams, Lesley Barnewall, Jane McDonald, Patricia Edney, Marianne Anthony and Ann O'Keeffe.

[dropcap style="font-size: 60px; color: #DC943C;"] T [/dropcap]hanks to the generosity of Bluestone supporter and subscriber Sharyn Carmichael from Glenafton Goat Milk Skincare, we have six fabulous gift packs – valued at more than $60 – to give away to six lucky new subscribers.

Glenafton specialises in hand-crafted, natural skin products that are made from the milk of more than 100 Anglo-Nubian goats that Sharyn farms with her husband, Trevor, on their property at Woorndoo. (See our earlier story here).

The gift packs include a 'Natural' Lotion with unrefined, organic shea butter; a creamy body wash with Australian lavender essential oils; a ‘Zinc’ lotion for hands, face and body; a Glenafton Goat Milk Soap; and a raspberry lip balm with shea butters and beeswax.

[box]The next 10 yearly subscribers to Bluestone Magazine will all go in the draw for one of these lovely packs, so if you have been thinking about subscribing (and keeping Bluestone alive), now is the time to do it. [/box]

The next five yearly subscribers will also be in the running for two tickets to the International Women’s Day gala dinner in Warrnambool on February 28, featuring Clementine Ford. See details of that competition here.

[box]You can find the Glenafton website here and Sharyn can be found selling her products at a range of markets around Port Fairy, Warrnambool and districts. You can also order direct via scarmichael@optusnet.com.au or 0427 516 888[/box]
